About Us :

The Cosmopolitan Hotel, ordered from Swiss-born hotel manager Charles Albert Baehler and built by the Italian Alphonse Sasso, was inaugurated 1928 as the Metropolitan Hotel.

The hotel was Baehler's last gift to Cairo's townscape, after creating some of the most beautiful hotels, apartment and office buildings, mansions and shopping colonnades in the city, as well as the Winter Palace in the upper Egyptian town of Luxor.

We never hesitate in our support, and we never lose sight of our main mission: serving our clients. Our job is to always make it easy for clients to do business with us and strive not only to meet their needs but also to exceed their expectations.

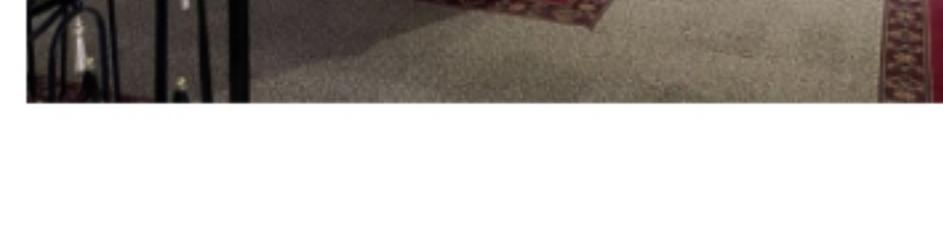

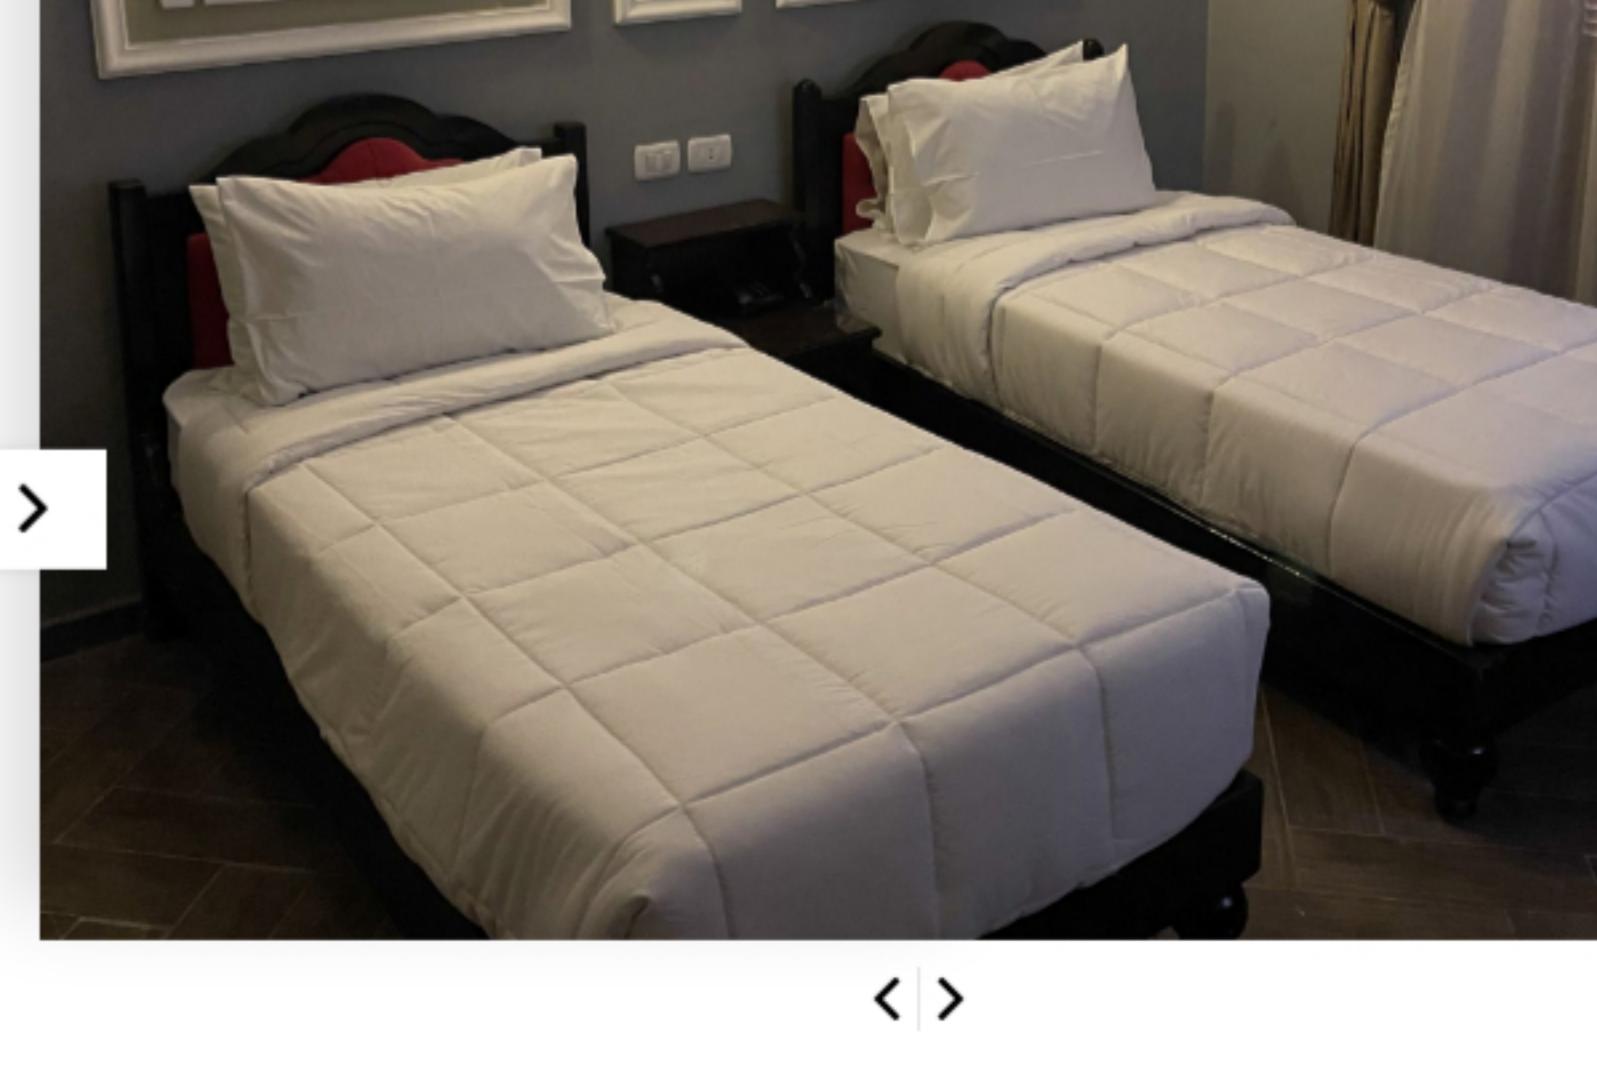

ALBER ISHAK
General manager

Accommodation:

The Hotel offers clean and air-conditioned 78 rooms & 6 suites, all cozy well fitted rooms all equipped with TV, Telephone, Mini Fridge & with private bathroom. Non-smoking rooms are available, free wireless internet access through-out the hotel.
